Palapa Beach Bar Soothes the Island Soul ...

Nestled on the shores of the Gulf of Mexico, the Wanna Wanna Beach Bar and Grill is a safe harbor for Island lovers. Its palapa style structure leaves it open and airy with a great view of the beach, the ocean, volleyball games, and bikinis. Don't bother with too many clothes, this is a real beach bar-swim suits are welcome. Sip on cool tropical beverages featuring fresh squeezed juices, whipped up by friendly bartenders. Put on your shades, relax, and enjoy the sea breeze. There's not a better way to spend a day in South Padre. Check for local bands on the weekends, and don't forget to order the fried oyster sandwich-if you like oysters, you'll love it; if you don't like oysters, you will after one bite. Come back for the Swiss Mushroom Burger, it's worth a second trip to paradise.
